

Child Trauma Centre
Kinder Trauma Kliniek
Jelly Beanz Inc.

& Baby Bonding (SA)
are proud to present
another seminar of high caliber grounded in evidence based theory and practice.

Seminar by international expert

Pretoria: 10-12 September 2015

Cape Town: 17-19 September 2015

ATTACHMENT

Creating a positive foundation for relational, emotional & physical health & resilience

This 2-day attachment training course is for those practitioners who wish to extend their work and knowledge to playful therapeutic interventions with babies, toddlers and children and their parents/carers. It showcases a very gentle and safe method based on parent-child interaction including play, parental loving touch, authentic movement, baby/child observation, informal lullaby and music, all of which are used specifically to improve the quality of the early parent/carer-child attachment relationship. All of this is set within the new and groundbreaking research into what we now know about how parents change and how secure attachment is operationalised in the earliest relationship.

Debbi Maskell-Graham, has a masters degree in play therapy with nearly 30 years' experience in relational interventions and research. Debi has worked with the hardest-to-reach families and is passionate about helping parents/carers be the best they can be. She is the clinical director of Big-toes-little-toes, an NPO that offers training regarding evidenced-based attachment play interventions. Their programme has been implemented in Kenya, Thailand, India, Hong Kong, Uganda, Europe and South Africa. She is a consultant to the Department of Education, National Health System and Warwick Medical School in the United Kingdom. She is author of the book Baby Bonding, to be released in October 2015.

Rene Ohloff and Louise Patrick, the South African Baby Bonding partners, will be assisting in the seminar.

FEES: R2250

R1950 for registered NPO's

CPD points applied for

For more information &
bookings please contact
Natasha Botha on 072 233 3708 or training@childtrauma.co.za

Programme

- Session 1: Welcome and overview of the course
- Session 2: Turning theory into practice: what is attachment and why does it matter? How does a gentle play-based approach work? Why is it so helpful? What kind of results can we expect?
- Session 3: What does baby bonding look like? A mini-session to enjoy
- Session 4: A framework to use for group and individual work including home-visiting
- Session 5: Working with our own “baby”: skilful use of a soft doll for modelling and mirroring; practical workshop
- Session 6: Putting baby bonding into practice; practical workshop
- Session 7: How do we measure improvements in attachment relationship? Pre- and post-measures, simple ways of collecting parent/carer stories
- Session 8: Adapting baby bonding for toddlers; practical workshop
- Session 9: Adapting attachment mechanisms used in baby bonding for older children: introducing Parent-Child Attachment Play; practical workshop
- Session 10: A final call for how society would be if all children enjoyed a secure and loving attachment with a parental figure. Questions and answers session. Details of online resources for free download.